Ibeto Cement Company Limited

The Ibeto Group commenced business in the cement sector in 1997 with the importation of ship-loads of bagged Portland cement through the Apapa ports. It is in Bundu Ama, Port Harcourt, Rivers State. It started producing bagged cement at its Bagging Terminal in Port Harcourt in June 2005. The Terminal is an ultra-modern bagging plant with a Flat-storage capacity of 50,000 metric tons and a production capacity of 1,500,000 tons per annum which translates to a production capacity of not less than 6,000 metric tons per day. The Ibeto Group is on the way to establishing a 5-million-tons-per-anum (TPA) or 12,000 Tons per Day (TPD) at Nkalagu, Ebonyi State of Nigeria.

The background image shows an industrial facility, likely a food processing plant. It features several large, cylindrical silos or storage tanks, a tall chimney on the left, and various pipes and structural elements. The ground in the foreground is reddish-brown soil, suggesting a construction or undeveloped area. The sky is blue with some clouds.

Ibeto Industries Limited

The Company was incorporated in 1984 initially to serve the Nigerian public in their quest for high-quality color print photographic processing. The Group has subsequently made it a vehicle for a robust response to the federal government's commitment to promoting food self-sufficiency in Nigeria. Thus, in effect, The Group diversification policy found expression in the proposed establishment of a packaged food factory in Nnewi, Anambra state, south-east, Nigeria. The factory, when completed, will have nine (9) production lines.
